Fiftyfour cases of scarlet fever have been reported since April I. Dr William Hall Coon states that the majority of these cases are not of the severe type and that the situation is not alarming. This is merely the outcome of what has prevailed in several of our larger cities of the state and has passed on to Bridgeport. In two or three cases this disease has been severe but the public need not have any fear of an epidemic.

The railway employes played their trump card today when Lauck filed his exhibit entitled "Human Standards and Railway Policy." Lauck charged that a small'group of bankers and financiers control the entire railroad industry and closely allied industries and that they are in a criminal conspiracy to crush labor.

Through a vast system of interlocking directorates, Lauck's brief alleges the firm of J. P. Morgan and Company virtually controls the entire financial situation as it affects the railroads. 25 men, the statement declares, divide 193 railroad directorships among them and absolutely control 99 class one railroads. This coterie of interlocking directors, Lauck alleged, absolutely control 211,280 miles of railroad or $2 per cent of the entire railroad system of the country.
